WINTER SHIMMER

Fashion Tip

The winter season is filled with colorful lights, music, warmth and joy and most importantly some glitz and glamour! Sequins and an Embellishing Your Winter wardrobe have been seen on runways and in fashion magazines, and now I want to bring it on the golf course.

Seema's Fashion Fun Fact

Did you know that when Marilyn Monroe sang Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend in 1953, she was covered in Swarovski crystals? Costume gems and jewelry have been used in place of real stones in films for decades because they supposedly offer a more exaggerated, graphic shine and glitter that translates better on screen.

Golf Tip

Hitting more greens in regulation will lower your scores and help you build more confidence with your game. Here are three steps to help you.

Step 1

First things first, it's important to set yourself up off the tee for a good opportunity to hit greens in regulations. Select the right club. Club selection is key to hitting more greens. Make sure you factor in the wind, undulations, your lie, and pin placement.

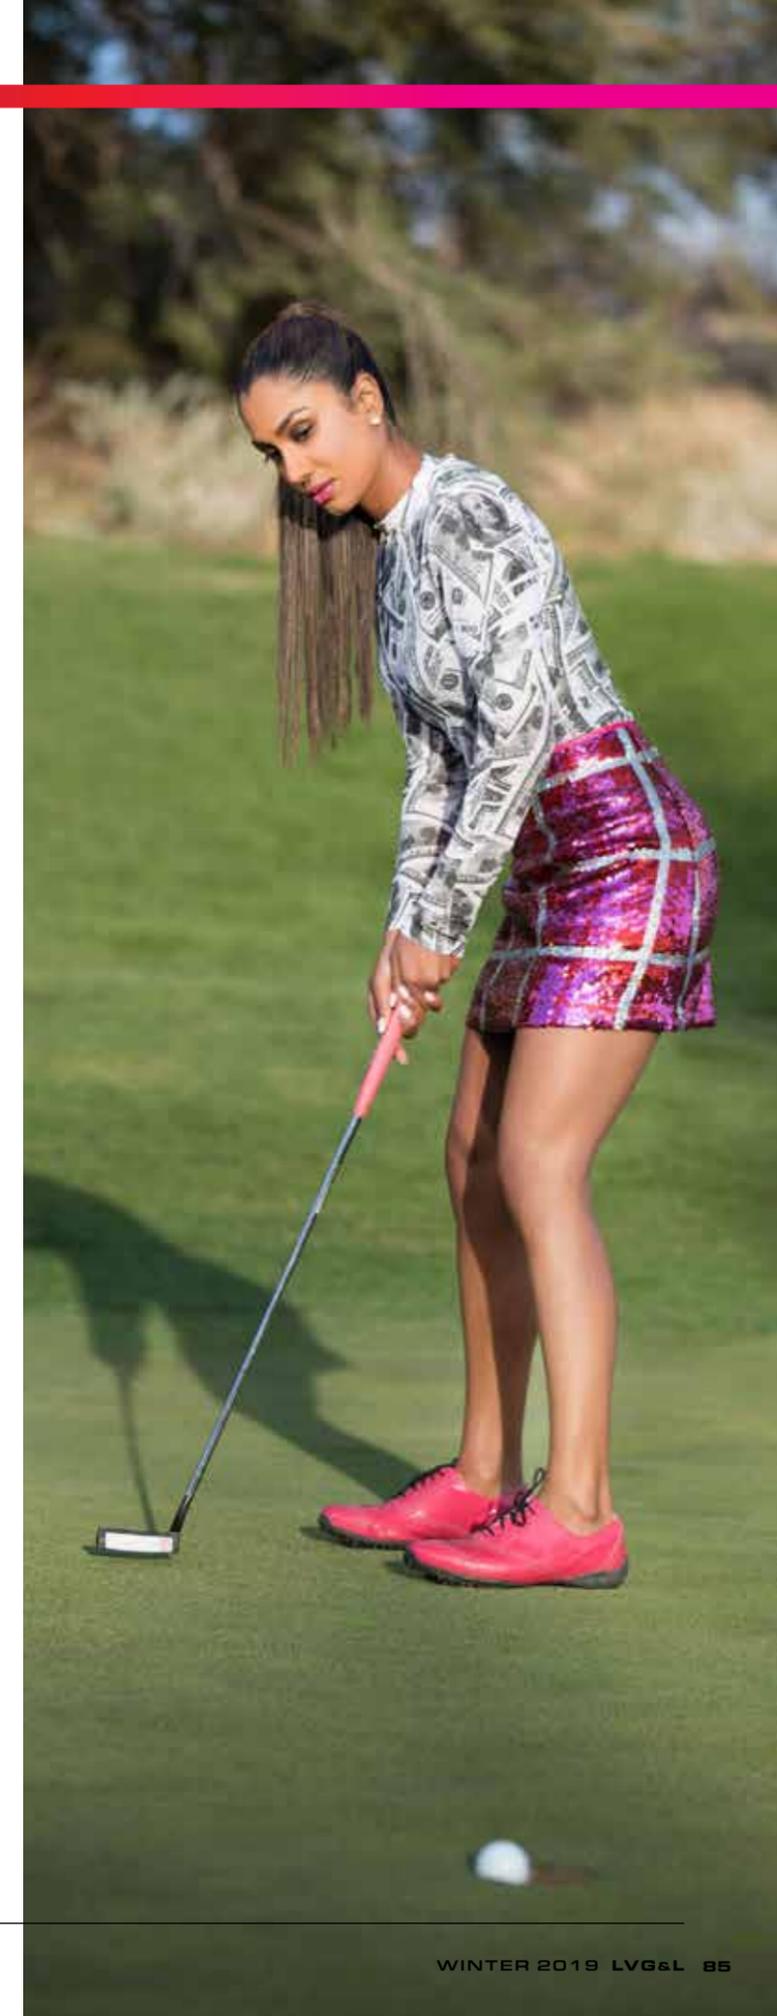

Step 2

Aim at the center of the green. Sometimes we try to get fancy and attack pins that can lead us into some trouble. Aim for the center and you are faced with a birdie or par.

Step 3

Trust your swing. Before pulling the trigger, try using one positive word to remind yourself that you can do this! A word such as "strong" or "smooth" can give you the confidence to hit great shots throughout your round.

DRIVE FOR SHOW, PUTT FOR DOUGH

Fashion Tip

Make a statement with your fashion and your game. A simple image or slogan on your garment can help bring a social conversation or make a statement. My “money” and “dollar bill” bodysuit says it all while on the putting green. Drive For Show, Putt for Dough. I paired this bodysuit with a sequined pink and silver checkered skirt to give my look a louder and more vibrant statement. This time of year, I love to mix and match and have fun, to be colorful and creative with my wardrobe.

Golf Tip

Let’s be clear, every shot starting from tee to green is important. Every shot counts. However, your final shot on the 18th green can determine your end round, day or week. Your putting is half of your scoring so it’s that much more important. Note that your long game will not be on-point every day; you will have off days where it’s important to rely on your putter and feel for the greens to keep you scoring well and your confidence high.

THE WIND IN YOUR FLARE

Fashion Tip

It’s time to add a little “flare” to your golf wardrobe. The 70s bellbottom pants are back in style! Prepare your wardrobe for a retro revival. I have paired my flared pants with a studded sequined gold and black fitted bodysuit. I want my flare to be the center of attention. Have fun with the flare if you dare.

Golf Tip

Golf is hard enough, but add in weather and wind, and you have one of many reasons golf is “played between the ears.” So, how do you judge the distance in the wind? It’s a guessing game. You get your yardage, look at the top of the trees or the clouds in the sky, throw some grass in the air to see which direction the wind is blowing and make your calculated guesstimate. Usually, if the wind is 10-mph, you add or subtract 10 yards per 100 yards of your distance. Note: this also takes time, experience and practice. You need to put yourself in different weather circumstances to understand your game and club selections.
